IT DOESN'T MAKE ANY DIFFERENCE WHAT YOU DO

There's always some way of getting hurt while you're doing it.

When you are walking, the automobiles are stalking you. When motoring, trains, trolley cars and other autos are hot on your trail.

Even home is not safe—more claims on accident policies arise around the home than in any other place.

No use worrying about it; worrying won't prevent accidents.

Just take out a Travelers Accident Policy, so that if you should get hurt it wouldn't result in financial stringency for your family.

I AM THE COUNTRY NEWSPAPER

I am the Country Newspaper. I am the friend of the family, the bringer of tidings from other friends I speak to the home in the evening light of summer's vineclad porch or the glow of the winter's lamp.

I help make this evening hour; I record the great and the small, the varied acts of the days and weeks that go to make up life.

I am for and of the home; I follow those who leave humble beginnings; whether they go to greatness or to the gutter, I take to them the thrill of old days, with wholesome messages.

I speak the language of the common man; my words are fitted to his understanding. My congregation is larger than that of any church in my town; my readers are more than those in the school. Young and old alike find in me stimulation, instruction, entertainment, inspiration, solace, comfort. I am the chronicler of birth, and love and death—the three great facts of mans existence.

I bring together buyer and seller, to the benefit of both; I am part of the market-place of the world. Into the home I carry word of the goods which feed and clothe and shelter, and which minister to comfort, ease, health, and happiness.

I am the word of the week, the history of the year, the record of my community in the archives of state and nation.

I am the exponent of the lives of my readers.

I am the Country Newspaper.

Lobo, the wolf, king of the Arizona cow killer is dead. After a long and successful career as a cattle bandit on the Arizona plains he has bitten the dust at the command of a Government hunter, who brought him down with one shot from a rifle. And at that the rifle had the rear sight missing.

For three years, according to the report received by the Biological Survey, United States Department of Agriculture, Lobo has taken toll of purebred Hereford stock near Kingman, eluding all hunters and leading apparently a charmed life. Once in two weeks the old bandit of the plains went over his trail. On one ranch alone 50 fine whiteface yearlings have fallen victim to his skill and cunning within a year. Several other ranches tell similar stories of Lobo's depredations.

Perhaps it was the old wolf's belief that his luck would last forever perhaps it was that he was getting old; anyway, he got careless. Wary of men, the big fellow didn't mind the near approach of an automobile containing the hunter—and fell at the first crack of the rifle. He weighed 78 pounds after the skin from the shoulders to the head was removed and was the largest wolf ever seen on the range.

Cattle and rangers of Arizona are sleeping easier as a result of Lobo's death, and several thousand dollars in stock will be saved annually.

A report from the Farm Bureau Gift Corn Project of last spring, tracing the movement to the grain from the farm to the starving children of Belgium, Poland, and the Far East is being sent out this week to all states from which corn was donated. These special reports show the disposition of each car load of corn.

The report shows that the corn-belt farmers donated 413 carloads of corn and in addition to this gave in cash for the purchase of corn $59,883.68. The cash donations were used to purchase corn at the market price.

According to A. R. Simpson, who was assistant to Mr. Vroman in direct charge of the business details of the project, "an outstanding feature of the whole project was the excellent quality of the grain donated. One car was declared by the Board of Trade firm that handled the grain without charge to be the best corn they had received this year."

"Another notable feature is that donors can be shown that every bushel of corn reached the mouths of those for whom it was intended. The handling and incidental expenses were absorbed by the relief associations in charge of the corn. Thus it may be said that the Farm Bureau gift was 100 per cent efficient."

Reports from Europe indicate that the gift corn saved hundreds of lives. As far as possible the grain was given only to the children of the hunger-stricken areas. Ten states in all participated in the Gift Corn campaign—South Dakota, Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Ohio, Nebraska, Colorado, Missouri and Kansas.

In addition to accomplishing the primary purpose of the project, several indirect benefits have resulted. Within sixty days after the first shipment of corn was received in Poland the Polish government ordered 8,900 tons of corn products from this country. Only recently the Russian relief organizations have asked that corn and corn products make up a large part of the food-stuffs sent into that country.

RETURN OF THE POPULAR FAVORITE

"The Bird of Paradise" returns to this city enroute to Denver and the Pacific Coast prior to an extended engagement in Australia and the Orient. On account of the importance of this tour Richard Walton Tully has provided a new cast of unusual distinction—and has imported from Hawaii five expert guitarists and singers for this "Hawaiian Master Drama." The Charm of this Play is More alluring than ever.
